

The latest innovations in Strasbourg...

nextmed

- The Eurometropolis of Strasbourg wins the "Territoires d'Innovation de Grande Ambition" (Territories of High-Ambition Innovation) Call for the Expression of Interest: a budget of 400 000 euros for preparing the 2019 tender

- BioFIT Conference: the essential gathering of life sciences stakeholders, held in Strasbourg in November 2017

- Visible Patient, a Strasbourg start-up and spin-off of the IRCAD, presents its 3D modelling service at CES in Las Vegas

Award for Les Jardins de Gaïa

Les Jardins de Gaïa won the 2017 CSR Social Responsibility Trophy for their creation of "militant" teas and roibos.

Renewable energies

Fonroche and ES are launching three geothermal energy projects in Vendenheim, Illkirch-Graffenstaden and, soon, Eckbolsheim.

Automotive growth

The automatic gearbox manufacture Punch Powerglide Strasbourg is investing 70 million euros to diversify its production.

Health and research

Strasbourg's University Hospital Institute, IHU, received 3.5 million euros in European funding for the period 2014-2020, added to the regional budget of 15 million euros.

Innovation trophies

Eight local Alsace project-generating companies have been given awards, in particular for their involvement in such innovative fields as the digital and healthcare.

Fibres Energivie Cluster

The European Commission Directorate-General for Enterprise and Industry has awarded the "Golden Label" to the Fibres-Energivie Competitiveness Cluster.

New urban adventures in Strasbourg

The design and activity production agency Insolit' Pro is offering new urban adventures entitled "Last Call", "Insiders" and "Escape Gaming" for groups of 6 to 600 people. Discover them now in their catalogue below